

Estates: Giving Through a Bequest

It is common for people chose to include a donation to the Chemainus Health Care Foundation through their final estates. The details of such gifts are included in ones will and are best developed in close consultation with a legal advisor. The donations can be given to be used at the discretion of the Foundation or, if you wish, the terms of the will could direct the donation to a specific area (i.e. “to be used for the purchase of furnishings or equipment for the comfort and benefit of the residents of the long-term care facility”).

Advice from legal counsel is recommended when gifting through an estate.
